Senate Office Building

Step 2: Salutation

Senator First Middle Last:

Step 3: Your Position including support or opposition, the bill number and official title.

I am writing in support of S209: The Federal Reserve Transparency Act of 2013.

Step 4: A very Brief list of your reasons.

Whereas the United States Constitution authorizes congress to borrow money on the credit of the United States and to coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coin. There is no provision for the creation of paper currency. This was not on over sight but, a conscious decision by the framers. There is also no provision for the transfer of legitimate powers to a third party, namely, the Federal Reserve Bank. This transfer of power in 1913 altered our Constitution and should have required an amendment as it removed the powers of our elected representatives and transferred them to non-elected private interests.

The Federal Reserve is the only institution in this nation that I am aware of that does not need to submit to external auditing. The people of this nation want to know what the Federal Reserve has done and continues to do to our currency.

Step 5: Tell your Representative what you want him to do.

Please support S209: The Federal Reserve Transparency Act of 2013 and become a co-sponsor if you are not already one.

Step 6: Closing: Leave room for a signature.

Sincerely,
